GREAT THINGS HAPPEN OVER GREAT MEALS

Food and community are integral parts of life. We understand that a sense of belonging is just as essential as the food we consume. Bringing people together over a meal is a powerful way to foster connection and enhance an experience – from celebrations to business meetings and with friends, family, colleagues, or peers.

We are a company that is woman-owned (WBE-certified) and green-certified. Our Chicago roots guide our practices, and we support them by sourcing locally, prioritizing minority-owned businesses, and implementing sustainable solutions whenever possible. Beyond our firm belief that food is fuel, we believe in creating impactful experiences that reflect our core values. We transform fresh, healthy ingredients into crowd-friendly, culinary-forward dishes. And we always strive to show up as our best selves and provide exceptional service that anticipates your needs and questions.

Our clients are a central part of our community, and we take great pride in our work to bring your community closer together.

Sincerely,

Jodi Fyfe, Founder & CEO

FOOD IS FUEL

We believe that what you put into your body has a direct relationship to the state of your physical and mental health. Our philosophy is to create meals that not only taste good, but make you feel good too. Our meals include clean, fresh, high-quality ingredients which benefit your mood and energy levels, promote heart and immune system health, and can even improve your memory!

- Our focus is on optimizing flavor and nutritional value
- Our meals are housemade fresh, daily
- Our meat is sourced from hormone-free, pasture-raised animals
- We limit the use of artificial colors, flavors, and preservatives in our ingredients
- We reduce waste through careful preparation practices, composting, and by using sustainable and recyclable packaging
- We care about our community: we source everything as locally as we can – from our ingredients to our employees, we are all home grown!

our on-site greenhouse

FROM PLANT TO PLATE. FROM OUR COMMUNITY TO YOURS.

For over 13 years, we have been working diligently to cultivate relationships with the community. From the local farms and purveyors we source ingredients from, to the people we serve, our community is at the core of what we do. Being a small, local business we have a great appreciation for these relationships, especially those with our culinary and delivery team.

At the center of our community is our on-site greenhouse and garden, cultivated and managed by our Chief Culinary Officer, Chef Devon Quinn. Our greenhouse allows us to control all aspects of the growth cycle from the seeds selected, to which soil and fertilizers are used, to when each ingredient is harvested. With this, we are able to provide staple ingredients to our dishes such as herbs, tomatoes, peppers, figs, and edible flowers year-round.

THINK SUSTAINABLY

Even though our packaging is made from recycled material and can be composted or recycled, it doesn't always end up in the circular ecosystem. Consider upgrading your serve ware to real equipment. It's better for the environment and it will elevate the look of your meeting or celebration!

HEARTY. WHOLESOME. FRESH

At the heart of our Cobb salad, you'll find grilled chicken, hard-boiled eggs, crisp bacon, and crumbled blue cheese. These ingredients provide a satisfying mix of protein and richness that contribute to the salad's overall depth of flavor.

To enhance vibrancy and nutrition, our Cobb salad is embellished with an assortment of colorful vegetables. Ripe cherry tomatoes and creamy avocado slices add freshness, while the sharpness of red onions offers a contrasting bite.

Paramount Events has eliminated plastic water bottles in our offices, on our drop-off menu, and at full-service events. We switched to aluminum cans because they are infinitely recyclable and our water supplier, Open Water, offsets their carbon emissions with their packaging and by their company operations as a whole. Paramount Events is striving to do its part, and we ask you to join us in this effort!
